KY. NORMAL COLLEGE.

The Highly Satisfactory Work Being Done by This School.

Since we last mentioned the subject, several pupils from other counties have entered Kentucky Normal College at Louisa, and a great many more have signified their intention of coming by the first of January. The work is going along in the most satisfactory manner. The pupils are working as many of them never worked before, and this means that they are learning as they never learned before. There is no place in this school for the sluggard. All must reform and go to work or get out. Prof. Hyington is recognized here and throughout Eastern Kentucky as a remarkable instructor and disciplinarian. His school is just about the busiest place to be found anywhere. Promptness and thoroughness are two strong characteristics. The children who are taught in his school learn not only what is in the text books, but form strong habits of industry and have their executive powers developed. They learn to take hold and do things. Parents who really want their children to acquire an education know that the knowledge can only come through the work of the children themselves. Very few pupils like the work well enough to pursue it diligently without the discipline and guidance that may be had only in a good school. There is not a better school anywhere for permanent results than the Kentucky Normal College. Louisa is proud of the school. Prof. Hyington and his efficient teachers are meeting all expectations. The faculty and accommodations will be added to as rapidly as the increased attendance demands. Prof. Hyington has the support and co-operation of the citizens and business men of Louisa without exception, and his popularity throughout the upper Valley where he has labored so long and successfully is indefinable. His long and honorable career has established for him a reputation that can not be damaged by the most dastardly persecution that could be planned. The reaction from all such efforts will fall heavily upon the investigators and their community. There is no other town than Louisa to attend school in. The youth of Louisa will find Louisa and Kentucky Normal College the best combination possible. Girls and boys, young men and young ladies, teachers and those aspiring to enter examinations, come to Louisa and you will receive a welcome from every body, and kind attention on all sides during your stay with us. We heard a pupil say recently that he had been treated more cordially in Louisa than anywhere he had been. The people of Louisa are not only inclined that way toward worthy people who come into their midst, but they appreciate the school and are determined to make it reach the highest possible success.

Zimmerman's Coal Railroad.

A dispatch from Burgen, Ky., says that Eugene Zimmerman, of Cincinnati, Senator J. N. Camden, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, J. W. M. Stewart, of Ashland, and B. F. Johnson, of Pikeville, are considering a route for the proposed coal railroad, 40 miles long, from their coal lands in the Elkhead and Boone creek coal fields of Letcher county to a connection with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway's Big Sandy extension. It is further stated that these gentlemen, who are now examining the coal property, will have a survey made at once, construction to begin immediately after the engineers have completed their work.

Vinson Family Reunion.

On Thanksgiving day there was held a family reunion of the Vinsons, at the old Vinson home, in Kellong. Congressman and Mrs. James A. Hughes and charming little daughters, Mary Elsie and Tudal, were there from Washington, D. C.; Hon. Z. T. Vinson, Mrs. Vinson and son, Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Lindsey Vinson, of Huntington; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Vinson, of Clay, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clarke, of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Elizabeth Bromley, Mrs. Wilson A. Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne K. Bromley, John Bromley, and other relatives were present.

The Passing of Mrs. Bert Shannon

"We know when moons shall wane,
When summer birds shall cross the sea,
When autumn buds shall tint the golden grain,
But who shall teach us when to look for thee?"
Oh Death?"
Yesterday loving friends followed Mrs. Bert Shannon's body to its last resting place in our beautiful City of the Dead. The passing of such a noble character deserves more than a brief notice. Young in years, she was ripe in the experience that comes and grows with such a life as hers. Daughter, sister, wife, and mother in all but natural tie to the son of her husband, this good woman, cut off when but twenty years had measured her span of life, filled to its full the duty imposed upon her. Ella Preston was the loving daughter of loving parents, the affectionate sister, the devoted wife, and when the cold earth hid her from the sight of the loving and the loved they surely felt the depth of a sorrow unfathomable and unutterable. She died last Monday night, after a brave fight against what we must yet believe to be the inevitable. Consumption early set its ominous seal upon her young body, and although medical skill, travel, nursing and all that the tenderest care could provide were used in her behalf she faded slowly, but surely. Two years ago one sister yielded to the White Plague, and now Henry and Nancy Preston mourn the untimely loss of another child from the same fell destroyer. Death is never a welcome visitor. Sometimes we say, unknowingly, that death was hailed as a relief from suffering. Perhaps this was so, yet, to some poor soul, some heart-broken mortal, the coming of the Steed who rides is Death meant an infinite measure of sorrow—a boundless, fathomless sea of grief. It must have been so to the relatives of her who to-day sleeps on Pine Hill. Do you doubt it? No! One thought given to the vacant chair by your own friends, and you measure the grief of these stricken ones by the heart-throbs which say, "You, too, have loved and lost." But while the survivors mourn the loss of the daughter, the sister, the wife, she filled those places in the hearts of the living, the touch of her hand, the smile of her face, the pain of her struggle is over and "It is well with my soul."

Woods--Simpson.

A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. A. Simpson Wednesday, Nov. 21, the contracting parties being their daughter, Maude S. to John Woods, of Hubbardstown. The bride was becomingly dressed in white muslin, carrying a beautiful bunch of bride's roses. The groom wore the conventional black. Miss Kirk, the bride's maid, and best man, Mr. Woods, brother of the groom, waited on them very becomingly, which befitted the occasion. The dinner was very delicious as it was prepared by the hospitable mother of the bride with assistants.

Those present were: Misses Emma and Ida Muncy, Ollie Vaughan, Ola Lemaster, Laura Kirk and Mrs. Pickrel, Messrs. Freeman Johnson, Will Woods and Geo. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. James Clayton, Mrs. Claude Vaughan. We wish them all the joy as they are a deserving young couple.

Shot Her Eye Out.

A daughter of Elijah Gartin, living near Blaine, lost an eye a few days ago as the result of carelessness on the part of some hunters. Two men from Lexington were hunting birds and a shot from one of their guns struck Miss Gartin in the eye. She was riding along the road at the time. The animal she was riding threw her immediately afterward and she was otherwise injured.

The friends in this city of Mrs. Hampton, wife of Rev. W. H. Hampton, of Ironton, will regret to learn of the accident which befel her on Saturday, last, when she fell over a box in front of a grocery store and fractured her shoulder.

Mrs. Hampton has been most unfortunate in the line of accidents, as it has been but six years since she fell down stairs and broke a number of bones, from which she has been crippled ever since.

DROWNED.

The Wife of Rev. Pangburn, of Buchanan, Ends Her Life.

On the night of November 23rd, one of the saddest incidents that has ever occurred in this neighborhood happened some time between eight and two o'clock. The wife of Rev. G. W. Pangburn, preacher in charge of Kavanagh Circuit M. E. Church South, arose from her bed while her husband slept, and disappeared in the darkness, clad only in her night clothing. About two o'clock Brother Pangburn awoke and missed his wife. He immediately arose and made diligent search in and about the premises. Telling to find her he notified the neighbors and in a very short time they were out. Lanterns could be seen in all directions. All muddy and soft dirt was examined for bare-foot tracks. Great excitement prevailed. The grief of Brother Pangburn was indescribable. The sad man uttered by that good old man, will doubtless be remembered by the children when they are gray. His beloved wife was wandering in the gloom of night, he could tell of her going until she fell exhausted in some rugged, dismal place, there to chill, and die of the bitter cold.

About dawn a white object was discovered in the backwater of Bear Creek, just above some saw logs about 200 feet below the county bridge. The object was found to be the floating body of Sister Pangburn. It was carried to the parsonage, and the women neighbors cared for it.

For some time the grief of Brother Pangburn was so great that it seemed to all that he would not be able to stand the shock. Several times he fainted. At one time he was thought to be dead and some of his best friends advised that his body had better be straightened out. A neat casket and beautiful white robe were procured by the first train. The only child, a son of 21, arrived from school at Barboursville later, only to find a mother cold in death. Friends from Ripley, Ohio, arrived next morning. A very touching service was held just before the body was conveyed to the train. The remains were taken to Ripley, Ohio, her former home, for burial.

Sister Pangburn was among us for about a year and a half. She was a very religious woman, kind and affectionate to all. She had been very sick for some days past and at times was delirious. It is generally believed that her life was ended while in one of these irrational periods.

She exactly fell or jumped off of either the county or railroad bridge, more probably the county bridge, as her foot print was found near the guard rail.

Held to Answer.

Thomas Young, charged with feloniously cutting and wounding Conductor William Fultz and brakeman Huffman on a train near Louisa on the evening of Nov. 17, was arraigned before Judge O'Brien last Saturday for examination of the two charges. Testimony in the case for cutting Huffman was heard, and the defendant was held to answer at the January term of the Circuit Court. The defense waived an examination of charge of cutting Fultz and bail was fixed at $500 in each case. The bond was given and the prisoner discharged.

The Telephone.

The telephone people are working hard to complete the establishment of their system in this city. The line is strung every where, and the cutting in of the plans where boxes will be located is going on. All material and work employed seem to be of strictly first-class and modern, and so far as can be learned the service rendered by the company will be of the best possible character.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church met with Mrs. E. C. Jenks. The attendance was large. After the business meeting the members adjourned to meet with Mrs. E. S. Dickey next Wednesday.

Sam Jones, an employee at the Kitchen-Vanant lumber mill in Ashland, had most of his skull torn off Wednesday by a plank striking him on the head.

M. P. S. Meeting.

Boons Camp, Ky., Nov. 19.—Saturday, the 17th inst. was a great day for the Mules of this place.

Some time previous Branham Lodge M. P. S. 209, decided to have a barbecue and raise a flag, and invitations were sent out to the neighbor lodges and the public in general.

Although Saturday morning was very gloomy, the crowd began to arrive in great flocks very early, and Richmond lodge, and Trace fork lodge of Martin county, Moody, of Floyd, and Wells, Millers creek, Buffalo, and Bob's branch, of this county were represented.

By 10 o'clock a vast throng of people were on the ground and a procession was formed and went in march, with two mules on mules in the lead, followed by the marching hosts on foot, commanded by Rev. Jas. W. Mallett, and while the march was on a nice flag pole was reared on which was a bunch of cedar and a banner bearing the inscription, "Branham Lodge No. 209 M. P. S."

When the marching hosts returned a beautiful flag was hoisted on the pole and when the flag reached the top, W. G. Wells made a speech of welcome which was cheered by all.

Rev. Jas. W. Mallett then led in prayer. The crowd then sang, led by Bro. Joe R. Ward, were invited to a very long table filled with the best grub, the people could procure, the lodge having procured a fine beef, killed and cooked on the ground; the citizens and lodge members having supplied a vast amount of bread, potatoes, cakes, pies, etc. When they reached the table the ladies to the left side and the gentlemen to the right. Bro. Marion Castle re-tained thanks at one end of the table and Bro. Jas. W. Mallett at the other. The crowd then ate all they wished and there was plenty left.

Then then assembled again and speeches were made by Jas. W. Mallett, Richmond lodge, W. H. Cowling, Trace fork, Martin co., M. Bayes, Floyd co., S. W. Spriggs, Wells, E. Hayden, Miller's creek, Rev. Marion Castle and Jacob A. Wells, of Branham lodge.

Calls were then made for citizens who desired to speak, and M. L. K. Wells arose and made a fine talk touching on the flag and patriotism, and urged the people to teach their children patriotism and urged the necessity of the community standing together on question of right although they might personally disagree.

Calls were then made for W. A. Wells, who responded with a short pointed talk, touching on good government and the stars and stripes. J. G. Wells then allowed his way through the crowd and layed off his overcoat and made a stirring speech on the theme of right and endorsing the work of our order.

Bro. Joe R. Ward sang many songs to the delight of all closing with "God Be With You," in which the congregation joined, shaking hands.

Bro. Jas. W. Mallett then dismissed the crowd by pronouncing the benediction.

W. G. WELLS.

In Bankruptcy.

The Whitehouse Cannel Coal Company, the Elise Improvement Company and Torchlight Coal Company have filed petitions in bankruptcy.

This action was inevitable after the proceedings in the case of Jay H. Northup, he being the largest creditors of those companies.

More than ninety per cent. of the creditors have united in a petition to the Referee to appoint Col. Northup Trustee in Bankruptcy for the companies.

Lock Worked Resumed.

Attorneys and creditors of the Baker Contract Company, at Catlettsburg, have been served with injunctions enjoining them from interfering with the work of the company on the Big Sandy river. Therefore, the work will be resumed at an early date, under the supervision of the Receiver appointed by the United States Court at Pittsburg, some days ago.

Several hunters from Ashland and Catlettsburg came up Wednesday night guests of Mr. Shipman. They started out early next morning with dogs, guns and traps, expecting to kill enough game for a big dinner Thursday night. It is safe to gamble that they had the dinner all right, game or no game.

PERT PARAGRAPHS

Picked Up At Pike, Paint and Prestonsburg.

Paint creek was the highest known for ten years, during the recent rise.

Rev. W. J. Coker, of Lexington, the eloquent divine, is drawing large audiences to the Christian Church of Pikeville, by his matchless power. He is one of the deepest theologians and most accomplished scholars who has ever filled a pulpit here.

The Jail Committee viz: Judge John W. Ford, C. C. Bowles, and John F. Butler, met Mr. W. L. Landrum, of Mayfield, Graves county, at the Pike in Pikeville Monday night, to consider the matter of building a new jail or repairing and enlarging the old one.

Misses, of Paintsville, are raising funds to build a church on College street. Mrs. L. D. Cooper has been out only two afternoons soliciting funds, and in that time secured $52.50. She is a popular lady and is thoroughly interested in church work. Eight hundred dollars has been secured toward the building of the parsonage for the M. E. Church, South.

Charley Vanhoushe, of Chestnut creek, this county, was acquitted Friday, in Circuit Court of the charge of detaining a woman against her will. Vanhoushe was brought here from Louisa, by J. J. Burton, of Lawrence county with whom Vanhoushe has been lodging for some time. Jailor Burton took charge of Vanhoushe and returned with him to Louisa Saturday morning.—Paintsville Herald.

Benjamin Burchett died at his home on Cow creek, Floyd county, Sunday, at the age of 70 years. He was stricken with paralysis a few days before his death, and on Saturday became unconscious. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death, for he was a good husband and father, and was well known in our town and community, and liked by all who ever knew him for his jolly, happy disposition and pleasant ways.

The Baptist Church, through Rev. Candill, who is here to fill the vacancy occasioned by the removal of Rev. R. L. Baker, is negotiating with candy occasioned by the removal of his fine lot in College Addition on which is the large Elliott building. If the purchase is completed, the house will be moved to the rear of the lot for a parsonage, and a fine church built thereon, with a frontage on College street.

A good idea of the extent of the "yarn" trade of the Big Sandy Valley will be obtained by reading the following:

The Plaid Dealm an was agreeably surprised when he visited the large warehouses of McGuire, Greer and Co., dealers in crude botanic drugs, on last Wednesday. Within the past six months this firm has paid out over twenty thousand dollars for roots, herbs, furs, etc. Just recently they received a car load of man-drake from Portsmouth, and within the past year have handled about 75,000 pounds of lobelia and 60,000 pounds of saffron bark, and a quantity of other herbs, which are shipped to all parts of the world.

The question of a bridge across the river at Pikeville was warmly discussed.

Invitations received here announce the coming marriage of George F. Wroten, formerly of this city, to Miss Irene Nellie Hutson, of Savannah, Ga. The wedding will be a double one, a sister of the bride elect being married at the same time.

The NEWS extends congratulations in advance. We have heretofore spoken of George's success in a husine way, and it was only natural to expect that he would win a worthy prize in a contest of this kind also.

The funeral service of Mrs. Bert Shannon was held at the Southern Methodist Church yesterday morning, conducted by her pastor, Rev. O. F. Williams. The attendance of relatives and friends was very large, all seeming deeply impressed by the touching solemnity of the sad occasion.

It Worked Smoothly, But...

Crawford Fugate was in jail in Huntington on Thanksgiving Day, but it was not because he intended or desired to observe the 29th in such a restricted way. Crawford is from Louisa, and its dollars to doughnuts that he will continue to be from Louisa a good while. It was this way: A few days ago Frank Hedrick, of Killgore, accompanied by Fugate, went into a clothing store in Huntington and bought clothing to the amount of $15. A fine overcoat was included in the purchase, size 35 or 36. After paying for the goods Hedrick told the clerk he would leave them with him until he sent for them, as he had some business to look after and didn't want to carry the bundle along. The men then left the store. Shortly afterward Fugate went back and told the clerk that his "brother" had sent him for his clothes, and that he had concluded to exchange the 36 overcoat for a 38, as they often wore each others clothing, and 38 was his (Fugate's) size.

This was plausible, and the slick manipulator said "good morning." Hedrick was astounded, when he called for his $45 worth of duds, but all he could do was to set the machinery of the law in motion. The thief's troll was an open one and the officer put on the case had no difficulty in tracing his man to Louisa. Here he was arrested by Marshal Stone and taken to Catlettsburg. After some persuasion he agreed to return to Huntington without the formality of a requisition. He was brought before Justice Hutchinson, and in default of $500 bail was sent to jail to await an examination which was to be held to-day.

YATESVILLE.

Nov. 27.—The weather has been very pleasant and farmers are almost done husking corn.

Several of the young folks of this place attended the candy party, given by Miss Ednashort, Saturday night and reported a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spencer were visiting relatives at this place recently.

Milton Carter contemplates a visit to Parkersburg in the near future.

There will be church at this place the first Sunday in December, at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. York.

Ritchie.

Charter Wellman has recently sold to Lock Moore a part of his Lock avenue property. The part sold is that portion of the lot occupied by Wellman's storehouse, and the house will be moved onto the remaining part of the lot.

Col. J. H. Northup, of Louisa, Hon. Mordical Williams, of Normal, and Co. W. A. Patton, of Catlettsburg, are the delegates named to represent the Catlettsburg Auxiliary of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at the big meeting in Washington.

Monday night the first meeting of the "Vincent Veritas" Club met with Mrs. E. C. Jenks, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by its members. The Club meets with Mrs. C. M. Crutcher next Monday.

Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

Tolson, I. T., Nov. 21.—Bishop John J. Tigert, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died at his room in the Brady Hotel at 8:55 o'clock this morning. While dining with a friend at Lawton, O. T., November 7, Bishop Tigert swallowed a chicken bone, which lodged back of one of the tonsils. In the effort of expelling it an abrasion was made in the tissues of the tonsils, which resulted in ulceration of the tonsils, confining him to his bed at Alotka, I. T. From this injury he died.

At the December, 1904 term of the Clark Circuit Court, a rule was issued against M. H. Hargis, Ed Callahan, and E. F. French for contempt. The charge was that they unlawfully, willfully and corruptly and with intent to blinder and obstruct the administration of justice, induce, persuade entice and procure by giving money and bribes and by threats of violence and personal injury.

causes, the society finds itself sorely in need of funds. The expense of accomplishing the rapidly-expanding work and of fulfilling its duty to the great mass of destitute children of the State, is being greater, and unless the public come to the aid of the institution the work will be greatly hampered this year. Destitute children are coming to the care of the society at the rate

President Roosevelt and party returned to Washington from Panama.

In the Ninth District Bennett's majority was 1116. In the Tenth District Langley's majority was 911.

Senators and Congressmen are flocking to Washington in anticipation of the short session, which begins on Monday.

It is expected that a Rivers and Harbors Bill will be passed at the coming session of Congress, carrying an appropriation of about $50,000,000.

Five guards in the penitentiary at Frankfort were dismissed Monday and their places filled by the appointment of new men. It is said that others are to be dismissed.

Senator B. R. Tillman delivered his lecture in Chicago Tuesday night, according to announcement. Poles and detectives were distributed throughout the hall, but there was no trouble.

The Court of Appeals, no member dissenting, has upheld the Day act, passed at a former session of the Legislature. This law forbids the existence of Berea College as a mixed school, and removes it from the State. This is not, never was, and let us hope, never will be, any good reason why a school be taught in Kentucky.

In an interview Senator Blackburn is quoted as saying:

"William Jennings Bryan is easily the best man available for the Democrats to nominate for President in 1908, and if nominated, he should win."

"Theodore Roosevelt and William Randolph Hearst are eliminated as presidential possibilities by the verdict rendered by New York voters on November 6, when the entire Democratic State ticket, excepting Hearst, were elected. It matters not whom the Republicans nominate for President in 1908, the party must grip one horn of a serious dilemma. If they name a man of the Roosevelt caliber and ilk, there will be division in the ranks, and if they choose a reactionary, discontent will be a threatening factor."

HICKSVILLE.

Married, on last Wednesday, Sam Hicks, to Miss Cassie Holbrook, both of this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Hicks at the home of the bride's father, W. M. Holbrook. The bride is 17 while the groom is but 16. May their pathway be an endless chain of happiness and prosperity.

FALLSBURG.

There has not been many visitors in Fallsburg lately, but the stores have had a good many looking for and buying something for winter.

The abundance of rain we had a short time ago didn't seem to do much good, because the cold winds have come and made the fodder dry again and the mud in the roads is gone.

No person would have had any doubts about the beauty of Kentucky girls if they had been here last Thursday when Maud, Stella and Della Crank and Jennie, Gypse and Myrtle Caine were walking these streets on their way to Cadmus to spend a day or two with the Misses Belcher. They were all well dressed for the occasion.

James Bernard has bought the Low property, and the colored folks are going to make Callertsburg their home.

Jack Thompson and sister, Lizzie, were visiting in Ashland recently.

Mrs. Olie Skeens has returned from Cincinnati, where she has been under the care of a physician for several days.

Henry Biggs called on friends at Fallsburg Sunday.

Wheeler Evans and wife returned to their home after a visit among relatives in this county.

A pretty wedding occurred at W.M. Burke's last week, that of Ben Burke and Miss Sarah Allen. They were both highly respected young people and we extend congratulations.

Expert Machinist-Plumber.

An imperfect job done in repairing machinery is the most expensive thing imaginable. Absolute accuracy is necessary. Broken parts of an engine must be perfectly repaired, or replaced by accurate new parts. Otherwise, it is just as well to throw the engine into the scrap pile and save cost of repairs. Frank E. Kilbourne, Ashland, Ky., is an engine specialist. He is prepared to duplicate or repair perfectly any part. He is also an expert plumber. Perfect plumbing is the only kind that never causes trouble. Save money and further trouble by employing him.

To Holders of County Claims.

I now have money in my hand sufficient to pay Road and Bridge claims for 1906 from No. 1750 to and including No. 1793. Also, common fund from No. 1731 down to and including 1836. Robt. Dixon, Treas. Lawrence Co.

GALLUP.

Miss Addie Glickerson entertained quite a number of her friends Saturday night. Among them were: Misses Patsy Shannon, Iva Chappman, Belle Shivel, Florence Smith and Rebecca Writtenberry and Messrs. Dan Belcher, Phillip Shivel and Ben Maynard. After having plenty of music and fruit all departed at a late hour feeling glad of being one of the members.

Mrs. Myrtle Shannon spent Saturday and Sunday at Donithon.

Tom McClure and wife, of McClure, Ky., are visiting here.

S. Y. Dobbins and wife and daughters, Mable and Blush, spent Sunday with the latter's parents.

D. J. Maynard, and Billie Shannon of Callertsburg, spent Saturday night with home folks.

Misses Patsy Shannon, Addie, and Messrs. Ben Maynard, Don Belcher, Phillip Shivel and Willie Norton attended church at Donithon Sunday.

G. W. Shivel and John Writtenberry spent a few pleasant hours with A. S. Glickerson Friday night.

Miah Brown, of Inez, was here Thursday and Friday.

There will be preaching here next Sunday by Rev. Elsie, Bluebell.

Greensburg, Ky., Nov. 21. — Congressman J. H. Bennett says the article in yesterday's papers about him being victimized out of two thousand dollars, while dining at Huntington W. Va., is a base fabrication and not a word of truth therefrom from start to finish. He says he never danced a step in his life, don't know any man

BUSSEYVILLE

All the sick of this neighborhood are a far improved as to be out, and while not perfectly well are able to "get around" the house rather lively. We are glad to note this fact, for some of them have been sick since Sept. 1st.

Our farmers are gathering their corn and find a much larger yield than was expected before the gathering began.

Miss Mollie "Cottonball" and Mr.
Hob White have been suffering most intensely in this vicinity for a few days, for the young hunters are showing us their hands as the marksmen and by the way it's a pretty fair band.

J. K. Hughes and Co., are our colliers now, "tumbling" the coal out by the ton. We were threatened with a coal famine, but now the crisis seems to be over.

D. L. H. Dean passed one day last

John L. Gussler, of Huntington, and wife visited his father, Mr. Wm.
Gussler last week.

Mrs. Edna Pitt and Sue Pigg visited Evergreen last Sunday afternoon and had a pleasant time.

Clifton J. Thompson, of Mead station, is visiting relatives at Forks of Little Blaine. He will return next Monday, and be accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Thompson.
She expects to remain there about a month.

Hon. Edward Collins, of Weston, O., came over last week and transacted a little business, stayed about four days, and returned taking some men with him to do some farm work, as farm hands are very scarce there.

THE FARM.

FATTEN THE TURKEYS

Christmas will soon arrive, and there is but little time left for getting the turkeys in prime condition. Both the size and the future price should be considered. It is not too soon to begin forcing them, and as turkeys will probably be in demand this year, with the supply not up to the average, those who are so fortunate as to have large flocks will find that turkeys are one of the most profitable "crops" on the farm.

The advice comes a little late for the present season, but the following from the Owensboro Inquirer sounds good, and may be worth filling away until the leaves fall again: At this season of the year the city wears a smoky appearance on account of the daily burning of the leaves which fall from trees.

Not a leaf should be destroyed by fire. Destroying the leaves impoverishes the soil. The leaves should be spread about the roots of the trees, with a small quantity of barnyard manure to prevent their being carried away by the winds. The leaf of the tree is full of phosphate, and when permitted to decompose on the land will add a liberal supply of nitrogen to the soil, retaining moisture in the summer and putting genuine fertility into the land.

One of the reasons why the trees diminish in luxuriant growth and gradually decline is because they do keep them in a healthy state at ex- not have the sufficiency of food to trement weather conditions. The shade trees in the city need an annual feeding as much as the farmer's apple tree. If they be allowed the crop that they produce annually as a fertilizer to decay and add nitrogen to the soil they will do much better than which they are deprived of such leaves. In place of burning the leaves in the streets let the leaves remain under the tree and decompose in the yards. The roots of the trees languish for the want of a fertilizer, and in a few years the trees are dead.

If there is bluegrass in the yard the decomposing leaves will be beneficial to the grass. The grass for the next few months will be in dormant state, and the covering the leaves will afford it will be like a blanket when the snow flies—it will sleep, rest and gain strength during the winter months, to come forth in the spring with a deeper blue and greater strength of beauty.

At the recent Farmers' Congress at Rock Island, complaint was made that girls flee the drudgery of farm life. But what's the drudgery of farm life to the drudgery of life in the great city department stores, the vast factories, restaurants, laundries and other places where this is employed. Our advice to all country girls is to marry industrious farmers' boys and settle down with them to make a home. It will take work, of course, as it takes work to accomplish anything in this world, but the results for a woman will be better as the mistress of a farmer's home and the of a farmer's family than anything offered in cities for women who have to live by their labor.

George Vanderbilt, of Baltimore, could move a mountain and build a palace, but when he tackled poultry he met his Waterloo. Raising chickens proved too expensive for the multi-millionaire. Let those who fondly imagine they have only to scatter feed with one hand and gather in dollars with the other remember even a Croesus' pluck and determination ended in a handful of feathers and a ton of despair.

IMPACTNESS OF THE STOMACH.

There is some talk of the "corn-stalk sickness" among the cows. It is not a disease, as is suspected by some, but a sickness due to the farmer's own fault. The cattle that have run on the pasture, and sometimes almost half-starved, are turned into a corn-field. They fill up with dry food until the stomach becomes impacted. By the way, feeding dry bran has produced this condition often, resulting not infrequently in the loss of the animal. The writer once owned a cow that died from a dry bran, and this is said while remembering that the Missouri Agricultural College sent out a bulletin to the effect that there is "no advantage derived from feeding wet bran." Those having stalk-fields should let the stock in by degrees, and see that they have plenty of water some soft food, and there will be no trouble.

LITTLE HINTS.

The bull can be kept at a distance with a staff, and that is therefore the safest way to lead him. Feeding and milking the cows regularly are very important. No work in the dairy can be more important. The milk cow's mission being to convert food into milk, not into fat and beef, it goes without saying that she should not be fat.

Whether one has a herd or only one cow, he should have something growing during the cool portion of the year, that will furnish succulence. And it will save buying mill feeds.

If the cow is not healthy—has garget or inflammation of the udder, or any other sickness that is noticeable—her milk should be drawn into a pail not generally used in milking and fed to the pigs, if used at all.

The cow must have health, vigor, constitution and disposition before she can milked the first time. What she really is will be determined before she drops her first calf.

Neither sorghum cane nor common corn that was green when the frost should be fed to cows and horses. It is not certain whether frosted sorghum contains this "forage poison" or not, but it would be best to grow in this line.

GOOD POINTS OF THE MULE.

The homely mule, like the homely woman, is made beautiful to those who know him by his sunny good qualities. As compared with horses, mules show many advantages and fall behind in few points other than speed and personal appearance, and sometimes in manners. At the age of two they are ready to do the work of a horse at four, and may be kept at it twice as long. They are less expensive to feed than other stock and know when they have enough, hence never founder. They are more healthy than horses and can stand more hardship and abuse.

While the horse, to be marketed to the best advantage, must be five years old, the mule reaches the same point at three, and there is always a demand for them.

When compared with cattle as to profit in raising, the mule shows the greater value and half the expense in feed. While a good steer at three years old will sell for $75 to $100, a good mule of the same age will bring from $100 to $125. They are not subject to cholera, as are swine and, on the same amount of feed, easily beat the hog in returning value.

PROVIDE BEDDING FOR STOCK.

It is not winter yet, but it is time to think of providing bedding for the stock, so they can be kept comfortable when bad weather does come. Comfort to stock pays in more ways than one. First it is humane, and there is no feed which pays a better profit on any kind of stock than comfort. We must keep all stock comfortable, but how it can be done without having a good and liberal supply of bedding is more than I can tell. Animals gain when they are lying down and are comfortable.

It would often be more comfortable to the stock and profitable to the owner to use some of the poor quality of hay for bedding, and feed more of the good hay, instead of saving it and expecting to sell a load or two in the spring at a good figure. There is no money in such business. If you are going to keep stock, keep them right or as near right as you can, and feed them the best feed you have instead of starving them all winter in order to get a few dollars for what hay you have left. We can be assured of one profit at least when we feed animals, and that is the profit of the manure which is quite important in my opinion. By feeding well we can have a direct profit from the feeding, and have the manure extra, but this means liberal feeding and feeding with judgment. Aim to have good feed and you will find a good profit in using the poor and inferior hay for bedding. Begin right now to think what you will use for bedding.

On every farm there is material which would be good to use for this purpose. Generally you will get more good out of it by letting the stock sleep on it. The best material for bedding is thrashed clover. This is good for nothing else. Stock will not eat it, and it would do them no good if they did. Stock can get no good out of the hard and dry stems of it, being short and porous. It is just the thing for manure, as it will absorb the liquid part and make the manure easy to handle. This is the ideal material for bedding, and is a good thing for the farmer to have. More than for the purpose of bedding it is good for the farmer to raise clover seed, especially for his own use.

Straw will be about the next material that the farmer will probably use for bedding, and it makes very good bedding. The spoiled hay on top of the stack is also very good.

Forests of the Philippines.

The natural growth of the Philippine forests is computed by Major Ahern, chief of the Insular Forestry Bureau, to be 1,400,000,000 cubic feet—three times the cut 1900 in the entire United States. At the present time, says the World of To-day, fully 90 per cent of the natural growth is going to waste, and besides mahogany, construction woods, iron-woods, all manner of precious woods, that need only modern methods, a maximum of machinery and a minimum of handling to make Monte Cristo of the lumbermen.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundations of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. State Normal College.

Apportionment of Scholarships to This Counties.

Under the law, each legislative district in the eastern half of Kentucky is entitled to send annually ten appointees to free tuition in the Eastern State Normal. There are, five hundred teachers may enjoy the privilege of free instruction in the Eastern School.

Some legislative districts are composed of two or more counties, and in such cases the free scholarships have, by order of the Joint Board of Regents, been apportioned by the State Superintendent upon the basis of the white school census. The apportionment for the school year of 1906-07 is as follows: Thirty-sixth District, Wayne 6, Clinton 4; Fifty-second District, Oldham 5, Trimble 5; Fifty-third District, Carroll 6, Gallatin 4; Sixty-ninth District, Whitley 6, Knox 4; Seventieth District, Laurel 2, Rockcastle 2, Clay 3, Leslie 2; Seventy-first District, Jackson, 3, Osage 2, Perry 2, Letcher 3; Seventy-third District, Estill 2, Powell 2, Lee 3; Eighty-sixth District, Nicholas 6, Robertson 4; Eighty-eighth District, Fleming 5, Bath 5; Eighty-ninth District, Lewis 5, Greenup 5; Ninety-third District, Bell 6, Harlan 4; Ninety-fourth District, Rowan 4, Boone 5; Ninety-fifth District, Pike 6, Johnson 3, Martin 2; Ninety-seventh District, Knott 3, Floyd 4, Maffin 3; One hundredth District, Elliott 4, Carter 6. All other counties in the Eastern District are entitled to ten each.

The following details of making appointments for the first year of the schools are based upon the Normal School Law, the action of the Board and of the Normal Executive Council. The close attention of County Superintendents and of respective appointees is invited to them.

Applicants for appointment to free tuition must be of good moral character and not less than sixteen years of age. There is no maximum age limit.

Only teachers or persons who desire to prepare for teaching will be eligible to appointment for free instruction. The law requires each appointee to sign an agreement to teach in Kentucky for at least three years after completing a course in the schools, provided employment as a teacher can be secured by reasonable effort. Failure or refusal to sign such an agreement upon entering the school will cancel the appointment to a free scholarship.

All persons who desire to secure free tuition in the Normal Schools should give their names to the County Superintendent for registration as applicants before or on Saturday December 8, 1906.

All eligible applicants for free instruction holding State Diplomas, State Certificates, County Certificates or Common School Diplomas, may be appointed without examination, provided the number of applicants holding such evidence of fitness does not exceed the number of free scholarships for the county.

If the number of applicants exceeds the number of free scholarships apportioned to the county, and all hold either a State Diploma, State Certificate, County Certificate, or Common School Diploma, the appointment should be made as follows:

Persons holding State Diplomas shall be awarded scholarships first; State Certificates, second; first-class County Certificates, third; second-class County Certificates, fourth; third-class County Certificates, fifth; and Common School Diplomas, sixth.

If the number of applicants exceeds the number of free scholarships apportioned to the county, and none holds the certificates or diplomas mentioned above, or if some do and none do not, then the County Superintendent will hold a competitive examination, and will award the free scholarships to those making the highest average.

If the number of applicants is less than the number of free scholarships apportioned to the county, those who hold one of the kinds of certificates or diplomas enumerated above may be appointed without examination; while those who do not hold such evidence of qualification will be examined to determine whether they are ready to avail themselves of the courses of study offered by the State Normal.

The competitive examination will be held by the County Superintendent on Saturday, December 15, 1906, between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. The examination will be held upon Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, United States History, and Spelling, upon questions prepared and sent out by the Normal Executive Council. The applicant must take a general average of seventy-five per cent, with no grade on any branch under sixty-five per cent.

DO not fail to send your name to your County Superintendent before or on Saturday, December 8, 1906. This may put you in line, if you are not appointed among the first, to secure an appointment later to fill out your county's quota.

Appointees must, in order to secure free tuition, attend the school in their own district; that is, appointees from any county in the Western District will attend at Bowling Green; appointees from counties in the Eastern District will attend at Richmond. Those who pay tuition may attend either school. All appointments must be made from the county in which the applicant teaches.

Five courses of study, each with its own distinctive aim and purpose, will be open to the student in the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School. These courses are laid down here to cover the time in which a strong student can complete them by steady, earnest work. Some students will probably need a longer time than that here assigned, in order to cover the subjects properly. Each student should take as much time as needed, but will be encouraged to work as hard and rapidly as possible. An appointee is entitled to free tuition until he completes the course of study to which he was appointed. Such modification in the published curriculum as the organization of a new school may require will be made, in the discretion of the Normal Executive Council.

The Faculty.

RURIC NEVEL ROARK, President, Psychology and Pedagogy

WESA MOORE, Intermediate Department, Model School
LENA GERTRUDE ROLING, Primary Methods, and Primary Department, Model School
ETHEL REID, Secretary to the President
MRS. AMANDA T. MILLION, Matron.

Appointees will receive free instruction for the time necessary to complete the course in which they matriculate.

It is hoped to have arrangements completed for supplying text-books, tablets, ink, etc., at a very slight advance upon wholesale cost.

Board.

Women. If appointees, will be accommodated in Memorial Hall (the Women's Dormitory) to the extent of its capacity. The rooms in this hall are newly furnished and papered. Each student expecting to occupy one of the rooms must furnish her own soap, towels, pillow cases, sheets and bed comforts.

A deposit of $2.00 will be required of each occupant of a room in the Women's Dormitory, all of which will be returned when the depositor leaves, except charges for any damage done to the room or furniture.

Board and room in the Women's Dormitory will cost $2.50 to $2.75 per week, according to the location of the room.

Students will be permitted to select their rooms in the order in which they apply, and take immediate possession. There will be no irritating delay for drawing lots for choice of rooms. Students may also, if they wish, hold the same room during the whole time which they spend in school, and will thus have opportunity to fit up their rooms in accordance with their own individuality.

The Women's Dormitory is situated on the campus, within a few hundred feet of University Hall where recitations are held. The Dormitory is in charge of a thoroughly competent Matron.

Men students will take rooms, or rooms and board, in the town. Those who desire to do so, can secure table at Memorial Hall at $2.00 per week.

Board and lodging for men students may be had in private families for $3.00 per week and up. Lower prices may be secured by students' co-operative boarding clubs.

It should be borne in mind that there are no charges for rental of furniture, and no requirement to purchase a uniform. There is no military drill, and no need, therefore of a uniform.

MEN PAST SIXTY IN DANGER

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, of Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure, I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 91 years old." Italics in the Bible.

The value of elliptical idioms in Hebrew and Greek rendered the use of Italics necessary in translating into English. To put in many words which are now represented in the original, in order to complete the sense, or to make the English version intelligible. All words so supplied are distinguished by Italics in order that the reader may see at a glance how far it has been found necessary to depart from the literal translation at which the translators aimed, and also that, by the simple process of removing the Italics, he may see, if he chooses, what the literal rendering is. In cases where a very peculiar idiom made it necessary to make any greater changes, the literal rendering of the Hebrew or Greek is given in the margin—Newark Advertiser.

In Butler district, Wayne county, the result of the election for school officers was as follows:

President of the Board of Education, F. W. Thompson, Democrat, 372; Robert Billups, Republican, 291. Thompson's majority, 81.

Member of the Board of Education Henry Rayburn, Democrat, 356; John L. Hanley, Republican, 302. Rayburn's majority, 54.

The case of the State against Andrew Fry, charged with a felonious assault on Sherman Maynard, Wayne County, resulted in both parties being fined for assault and battery. This is the case which made a column of scare heads for a Huntington paper last summer, one of the parties, according to that veracious journal, having been stabbed, the knife going in at the bowels and coming out at the back.

J. H. Darnell, the man who was found unconscious in the N. and W. depot at Kenova last Wednesday died Friday morning at 4:2 at the Glenwood Inn. He has been under the care of Dr. J. F. York, of Kenova, and Dr. J. Letton Martin, of Ashland. The wife of the unfortunate man arrived the day after he was found and remained with him until his death.

He never regained consciousness enough to tell what happened to him and the facts of the case will never be known.

Attorney J. Franklin Wallace, who brought about the recent disclosures at the Lexington Asylum, which resulted in Fred Pharris and Daniel Adams being convicted for the murder of Fred Ketterer, of Ashland, is preparing a $50,000 damage suit, which he will file against the Eastern Kentucky Asylum, which is a corporation, with power to sue and be sued. Attorney Wallace was instructed by David Ketterer, of Ashland, a brother of the dead man, to institute the proceedings.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Seven trackmen of a gang of nineteen engaged in removing a slide on the Dry Fork branch of the Norfolk and Western railroad were killed to-day as the result of a big slip of land. The men were swept down the mountain side and into the river. Twelve escaped. The bodies of four of the victims were recovered and three of the bodies are buried under hundreds of tons of earth. All of the victims were Italian laborers and were known only by numbers, not names.

Thirty-two houses belonging to the Thacker Coal and Coke Company, Thacker, W. Va., were destroyed by fire Thursday morning.

Most of them were double houses and contained from two to three families all of whom lost their household goods in the conflagration. Some of the goods were removed but the fire spread so rapidly that it reached and destroyed them after they were removed from the buildings. It is said that evidence has been secured which leads the company to believe that the building which first caught fire was set on fire by two Italian, who sought revenge for the death of a brother who was killed by a mine car.

On Monday morning shortly after 10:00 o'clock the two-story brick building owned by C. H. Bronson, on Second-ave., in Williamson, collapsed and its destruction was complete. The heavy rain, which fell continually for thirty-six hours was undoubtedly the cause of the foundation giving away and allowing the building to fall.

In the morning some one noticed that the wall of the building had cracked and those in the building were warned to get out. About fifteen minutes after every one had gotten outside the crash came and the building fell flat to the ground.

The first floor was occupied as a bowling alley and the second was the home of the Mingo News. The printing plant was demolished and was practically a complete loss. The newspaper press was smashed to pieces and the type was scattered among the debris so that but little of it was recovered. The plant is said to have been worth about $2,500.

Disregard for signals on the part of a car's crew seems to be the only feasible explanation of the cause of a serious collision on the Camden Interstate line just inside the corporate limits of the city of Ashland at an early hour of the morning Sunday.

Through car No. 115, west bound, in charge of conductor J. A. Holley and Motorman Jesse Johnson, and car No. 103 the Ashland and Catlettsburg local coming east, ran together head-on smashing the front ends of both cars into kindling wood.

There were but few passengers on either car and luckily none were more seriously injured than being cut by flying glass and bruised up from being thrown violently from their seats.

Motorman Jesse Johnson was very seriously injured, having one leg broken in two places, his back painfully wrenched, several cuts about the head, and it is feared some internal injuries from which he is suffering intensely and may die.

For some weeks two girls, Carter by name, were employed as servants in Williamson and on last Friday night they took possession of some goods at the places where they were employed that did not belong to them. They were locked up by the police of that city on the charge of loitering, but were released before the charge of theft could be made against them. After being released from the city jail they went to Matewan and Marshal J. H. Maynard of that town was notified to place them under arrest.

Some time Saturday night they set fire to the lockup and burned a hole in the door of sufficient size to make an exit. When the fire had done all that was required of it it was extinguished and the girls picked up their "trousseau" and took passage to the Kentucky shore.

It is said that the next night they came to this city and meeting No. 3 rode the "blind baggage" in the direction of their home which is reported to be in Lawrence county, Ky., near Louisa.
